Good morning, Julie.

We're waiting on the registrant responses to the terms and conditions, so our timelines hinge on that. We're still hoping for early this week, but because our timing is contingent on the registrant response, I don't have much clarity on when exactly we'll be able to finalize.

Thanks,
Lindsay

Yes, that would be helpful. Are you thinking this could be early next week, or do you have a better idea of timing?

Thanks,

Hi, Julie.

You had asked in our meeting earlier this week whether it would be possible for EPA to share our communications materials with you in advance of releasing them.

I found out that we cannot share the comms materials until after the decision is signed; however, once that is done there are probably a few hours until the comms are released. If a few hours of notice would be helpful, we could send you a draft/embargoed copy at that time.

Please let me know if that would be helpful.

Best regards,
Lindsay
